C. OF C. DRIVE IS OPENED TODAY

MEETING TONIGHT FOR PUBLIC

Great Enthusiasm Shown on Eve of Drive for Members

REED SPEAKS TO SCHOOLS

Letters Mailed to Prospects—Solicitation Starts Monday

Enthusiasm among members of the Lima Chamber of Commerce had reached the highest pitch Friday of any time within the history of the chamber, according to members of the organization.

"Four hundred reservations have already been received for the monster citizens' meeting to be held at Memorial Hall Friday night, and a number of others have expressed their intention to attend," Secretary Lincoln declared Friday.

Congressman Daniel A. Reed, director of the campaign, spoke to pupils of both Central and South High schools on the subject "teamwork."
Reed painted an inspiring word picture of the cooperation and teamwork shown during the war, and implored the youngsters to preserve the spirit. He asked them to encourage their parents to take an active interest in the Chamber of Commerce membership campaign. He declared the future of Lima depends in a great measure on the outcome of the drive.

FIRST PUBLIC MEETING
Reed, who is said by all who have heard him, to be one of the most engaging orators in the house of representatives, is expected to be at his best Friday night, as this is to be the first meeting thrown open to the general public since his arrival in Lima last Thursday. He will speak on community development.

Descriptions of how other communities have been lifted from the inferno of self contentment after awakening to the possibilities of their cities will be an important part of his address Friday.

Also the actual solicitation does not commence until Monday, Friday is really the opening day of the campaign. Letters were mailed out to 2,000 prospective members of the Chamber, explaining the possibilities of the Chamber of Commerce after it has been organized, and enumerating
the industries which have been brought to Lima thru the efforts of the present organization. In spite of its under financial condition.

DAY OF OPTIMISM
President George Paly in discussing the work of the campaign, declared he is convinced the drive will go over with a "bang." Congressman Reed has a wonderful personality, he said, "and in addition to convincing every one with whom he has come in contact of the importance of a rejuvenation of the Chamber of Commerce, has succeeded in imbuing them with enthusiasm which makes for success."

Friday's activities previous to the grand rally at Memorial Hall include a meeting with the bankers and manufacturers at 4:30, according to information given out at the Chamber of Commerce offices. At this meeting Reed will address the organizations.

"We hear a lot about American-ism. The problem in this country is not to Americanize the foreigner, it is to Americanize the American," said Congressman Reed. In his talk to the students of Central High School Friday morning.

He talked to the students on the necessity of having team work in any organization from the school to the city.

URGES FULL SUPPORT
"I want you to support your teams, whether they win or lose,
and to build up ideals and traditions here that will carry thru life."

He told of an incident in his coaching career at Cornell. The Cornell football team had been losing the majority of its games, the students were disgusted and were not supporting the team when a Lima man, Paul Timmerman, then at the school, reorganized the school spirit so that 5,000 students were at the station cheering for the team when it left for the final game of the season.

"That game was won by the students' love and loyalty to the school.
I want you to get behind your team,
your teachers, your superintendent, and your city so that you will make it the best school and city in the world," Reed said.

"The fathers and mothers must sacrifice and serve Lima to provide opportunities for the boys and girls,"
he added.

Reed compared the Chamber of Commerce to a football team. "The people must get behind it, unselfishly, and it will win names."

THE OATH OF ATHLETISMS
"It is now time for the people to do something for the boys and girls.
The people of Lima must take the oath of the Athenian boys took when Athens was the center of civilization of the world. The oath was: 'We will never bring disgrace to this city, by any act of dishonesty or cowardice. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the city.
We will revere and obey the city's laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in those above us who are prone to abuse us or to set them at naught. Thus in all these ways we will transmit this city, a less, but greater, better and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us.'"

Principal R. E. Offenbauer opened the meeting with a short talk on the various activities of the school.

LIFE TERM GIVEN

Youth Sentenced For Complicity
in Woman's Murder

COLUMBUS—(By United Press)—
Herbert Fletcher, 19, must spend the balance of his life in the Ohio penitentiary for his connection with the murder of Mrs. Betty I. McCarrick, on July 25 last.

The jury in his case, after deliberating less than four hours, returned a verdict of murder in the first degree, with recommendation for mercy late Thursday.

Fletcher, worn and tired, under the strain of the nine-day trial, leaned forward in his seat with an air of suspense as Frank Butts, foreman of the jury, informed the court
they had agreed upon a verdict.

When Gloria Thomas A. Curran read the verdict, Fletcher swayed in his chair and moaned: "I did it. I kill the woman."

Sentence was deferred to allow counsel for the defendant an opportunity to file a motion for a new trial.

NEW CHURCH WILL BE DEDICATED

Impressive Services at Christ Church on Sunday

BEAUTIFUL EDIFICE FINISHED

Congregation Responds Freely
to Pay for Work

Impressive services will mark the dedication of the new Christ Episcopal church, North and West-sts., Sunday morning at 10:45 o'clock. The dedicatory sermon will be given by the Rev. Frank DuMoulin, Toledo, bishop coadjutor of the diocese of Ohio. The public is being invited to attend the dedication services.

The order of the day's services follows: Celebration of the Holy Communion, 7:30 a. m.; dedication service and full choral morning prayer, with sermon by Bishop DuMoulin at 10:45 o'clock.

Music for the services will be furnished by a fully vested choir of 33 voices, 25 adults evenly divided as to parts, and 8 boys, with a crucifer.
Mrs. Foster Robinson will direct the choir and Ernest C. Baird will be at the pipe organ.

The appearance of the new church is dignified and the interior most beautiful. The two exquisite memorial windows designed and executed by Messrs. Heaton, Butler and Bayne of London, England, picture the "Nativity of Christ" in the west and
"The Supper of Emmaus" in the east.

The marble altar, the richly carved communion rail, reredos, wainscoting, bishop and clergy chairs, credence shelf, choir pews, chancel light, with the contrast of stone gray and red floors, present, in the chancel, a picture calculated to inspire reverence and devotion in the heart of every worshipper and attendant at Christ church services.

ORGAN REMODELED

The organ has been completely torn down, rebuilt and added to. The volume has been increased two-fold and the tones rendered more brilliant, sweet and melodious. It is remarkable and a revelation to all who remembered the fine old organ
it stood before the transformation.

The main body of the church has a seating capacity of almost 400 and the chancel pews will accommodate a choir of 40 voices.

The beamed ceiling, soft amber windows on the north side and three beautiful memorial windows from the old church on the south side,
with black borders on the red ashetone floor, complete the harmonious setting. Two large lantern lights add warmth of color and artificial light.

The entire interior was designed and executed by the ecclesiastical department of Spaulding and Co., Chicago, W. N. Brown, as manager.

The exterior of the new church and the beautiful light in the vestibule and sacristy were designed and executed by the architectural and engineering department of the Solar Refining Co., Lima. J. W. McCarty served as chairman of the building committee. He was ably assisted by C. L. Kirk and James G. MacKenzie.

Charles Lathrop, Lima, was contractor superintending the building and construction.

LECTOR STARTS WORK

It was largely due to the efforts of the Rev. Kirk B. O'Ferrall, rector of the church, faithfully supported by the entire congregation that the new office was undertaken and completed. Mr. O'Ferrall entered upon his duties on January 15, 1917, coming to Christ church from Toledo, where he was curate at St. Marks Episcopal church.

During his administration the parish has grown in numbers and influence and the parishioners have rallied nobly to the movement for the new church building, fostered by their rector.

The first Episcopal church service ever held in Ohio was in 1750, but it was not until 1796 a parish was organized and regular services held in the state. It was nearly 100 years afterward before the church reached Lima.

In 1870, in 1875 an occasion of the growth of commerce was presented when two silk flags to be used
in their membership campaign.

Rev. Father Griffin, of Youngs-
town declared the local K. of C.
building to be the greatest financial achievement in the history of the Knights of Columbus in America.

The flags which are given the leader of each division for high sales are held by E. J. O'Connor, $3,500;
James L. Henry, $4,500 and Lawrence Barrett $4,000.

RETAIL PRICES IN LIMA CUT

Reduction In Necessities Greater Here Than In Other Cities. Survey Taken In Department Store Indicates

Price reductions in other cities within the last few weeks on many necessities are in no greater proportion, and in some cases far less, than the reductions in Lima stores. It was found after a survey of the retail market Friday.

Taking the Deisel Co., Lima's largest retail department store
as a barometer, it was found that reductions have been made within the last week to 10 days in proportion to those of any other city and the cuts which have been made since the peak was reached in high prices in the Spring have been greater than those in many other cities reporting lower prices.

REDUCTIONS ARE FOUND

Following are the reductions found Friday at the Deisel Co. over the peak prices of Spring:

Cotton Goods, 30 to 45 per cent.
Silks, 50 per cent.
Woolen Goods, Average, 25 per cent.
Shoes, about 20 per cent.
Men's Clothing, about 20 to 25 per cent.

Women's Clothing, 20 per cent.
Hosiery and Underwear, 20 to 35 per cent.
Rugs, about 10 to 15 per cent.

A shortage of production in furniture, crockery and housewares has kept the wholesale markets very firm in these lines. There have been recent advances in mill prices. These advances, however, have not affected the retail prices in Lima, which are still on the basis of old contracts.

$57,600 IN BONDS SOLD BY K. OF C.

Fired by enthusiasm which was spurred by a rally at the K.
of C. building Thursday night, 150 workers in the K. of C. bond sale drive rolled up a total of $57,600 for the first report, made at a noonday luncheon Friday.

Father Tobin, chairman of the campaign, declared he was greatly pleased with the results shown,
more than a fourth of the $200,000
to be sold.

The drive was launched at a banquet in the assembly room of the new Knights of Columbus building on W. North-st Thursday night where 150 eager teamworkers were the honor guests.

Congressman Daniel A. Reed, the principal speaker, inspired the young bond salesmen with one of the fiery addresses which have carried so many of the commerce campaigners "over the top."

TEACHING CITIZENSHIP

"The financial return from the bonds is but a small item," Reed declared, "you are teaching your people the high ideals of citizenship. I want to see you put this thing over and put it over quickly, because you are working for a worth-while cause."

Following Reed's address, and a short address by Secretary Lincoln, the chamber of commerce was presented with two silk flags to be used
in their membership campaign.

Rev. Father Griffin, of Youngs-
town declared the local K. of C.

GOEBEL FIRES AS MAN FLEES

Mel Flannigan, Alleged Bootlegger, Dies at Hospital

POLICEMAN IS EXONERATED

Chief Says He Acted In Accordance With Duty

Mel Flannigan, alleged by police to be implicated in the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors in violation of the prohibition laws, was shot and mortally wounded by Sergeant John Goebel of the Lima police force shortly after noon Friday, following a short chase by the officer.

Flannigan, who was rushed to the city hospital as soon as he fell, died at 2:10 o'clock at the hospital.

Sergeant Goebel, was exonerated from any charges in the killing of Flannigan. In a statement issued by Chief of Police O. J. Roush at the death bed of the victim.

Roush declared that Goebel was justified in his action and acted in accordance with his duties as an officer.

ORDER SENT OUT

The shooting followed an order from police department to watch for Flannigan who was wanted following a raid on a still which it is alleged his brother Lester Flannigan, 936 S. Elizabeth-st, operated. Lester Flannigan was fined $500 in police court late Friday afternoon when he pleaded guilty to the charge placed against him.

Police were immediately notified to watch for the brother.
Goebel, according to his own statement, was squirrel hunting. As he approached the Shappell filling station near the State Hospital, he learned that Mel Flannigan was in the vicinity. He notified police headquarters and asked that aid be sent to him. Patrolman Mike Laughlin, in the police patrol, sped to the place and arrived at the filling station in time to see Goebel start a chase for Flannigan.

USES REVOLVER

Goebel used a .38-caliber revolver that he had borrowed earlier in the day.

The shot hit Flannigan in the right side. He fell, and the officers, picking up the wounded man, rushed him to the city hospital in the police patrol. There his condition was immediately pronounced critical. Police officials were at the bedside when Flannigan died.

He was unable to make a statement.

The shooting grew out of a series of raids on stills and alleged bootlegging joints started late Thursday afternoon. He still taken at the home of Lester Flannigan brother of the victim of the affair, was declared by police to be the largest one in the state, as far as they knew. It had an estimated capacity of 60 gallons a day. Some 2,500 gallons of mash was located at the Flannigan home according to police, and was immediately placed under guard.

BROTHER IS FINED

Lester Flannigan was arraigned in police court late Friday afternoon. At about the same time Gobel was giving chase to his brother.
Flannigan was fined $500 by Judge Emmett Jackson of Criminal Court.
He had pleaded guilty to the charge,
preferred against him by the police.

Vasil Dinoff, 38, another alleged bootlegger, was taken by police Thursday.

M. George another man charged with bootlegging and also arrested
during the series of raids Thursday, was also with Flannigan, fined $500.

Police are of the opinion that all of the men convicted in the raids Thursday are operating a chain of still joints and bootlegging joints.

GOEBEL BREAKS DOWN

Sergeant Goebel, in his number of years on the Lima police force has a record of never having killed a man, broke down and cried like a child when he learned that the man whom he had shot had died, it was reported from the hospital.

Goebel, between sobs, declared to the officers and press representatives gathered about him and his dead prisoner, that it had always been his aim to maintain a record of never having killed a man, while he was with the police department.

Goebel, after he was able to gain
his composure, declared that as soon as he had got within reach of Flannigan at the Shappell filling station, he had placed him under arrest,
charged with bootlegging.

Flannigan, the officer declared, immediately broke from him, and Goebel pulled his revolver and fired at the man to hold his prisoner, he declared.

Goebel, who was on a day vacation—the regular day every month that is given police as a day of rest from their duties, had just started on a squirrel hunting trip, he declared. He said his man, he said, notified police headquarters, and proceeded to make the arrest.

EX-ARMY OFFICER IS SOUGHT

British May Ask Extradition of Captain W. N. Barrett

TAKING JEWELS CHARGED

Necklace Property of Mrs. John Spreckels, Jr., of U. S.

LONDON — (By United Press.)—
British officials were undecided Friday as to whether they would ask extradition from the United States of Captain W. N. Barrett, formerly of the American army, for whom a warrant has been issued, charging him with appropriating jewels belonging to Mrs. John Spreckels, Jr., of California.

Barrett disappeared before the warrant could be served. Word has been received here of his temporary detention in Los Angeles. He was not arrested.

Mrs. Spreckels, who is a daughter-in-law of Claus Spreckels, American sugar magnate, said she gave a diamond and pearl necklace valued at $125,000 to Barrett to be cleaned and insured, at his suggestion. The warrant charges that Barrett, who is the husband of Alice Gordon Barrett, of Philadelphia, sold the necklace and kept the money. Mrs.
Spreckels said she first met Barrett
about eight years ago.

She said she and her husband
while touring the world, met him in Europe again a few months ago.
Spreckels was called to the United States by business in March, she said, but she remained here. She often accompanied Barrett to the races,
she said.

Following the application for a warrant for Barrett, his creditors instituted bankruptcy proceedings here.
His liabilities were reported to be $13,265, and his assets nothing. His creditors included several dealers in antiques.

WAR HERO FINDS MEMORY AGAIN

Blank Whole Year Recovers in Ohio Hospital

MULE KICK IS THE CAUSE

In Veteran of the American and English Armies

KANSAS CITY, Mo.,—At 7 p. m. on August 11, 1919, Lewis Foley locked the door of his father's grocery store at Fortieth and Holmes streets and started home. Then all went blank.

Foley's name appeared on the list of "missing" at police headquarters and for more than a year his disappearance was a deep and apparently impenetrable mystery to his relatives and friends. Then one day recently Foley walked in on his mother at her home, No. 17 East Forty-first street, and another was added to those many strange cases of temporary loss of memory due to accidents incident to the war.

Foley, a wide-awake youth of twenty-four, enlisted in the First American Cavalry at Kansas City on May 11, 1917, going to Jefferson Barracks and thence to Fort D. A. Russell, Wyo., where the First Cavalry was stationed.

At Fort Russell Foley was kicked in the forehead by an army mule. After a month in the hospital he was given an honorable discharge for disability.

Returning to his home in Kansas City, after being discharged from the hospital, Foley decided that if he could not do his bit with the army of his country he would look elsewhere, and on August 17 enlisted in the English army, being assigned to the Third Royal Black Watch, a Scottish infantry regiment.

From Kansas City Foley was sent to Nova Scotia, and from there went overseas September 20, 1917. Arriving in England, Foley was stationed at Curragh Camp, Ireland, twenty-six miles from Dublin, where he remained through the war.

Discharged from the British army in February, 1919, Foley returned to his mother's home, arriving March 17. Immediately upon his return home he went to work for his father who then operated a grocery store at Fourteenth and Holmes-sts.

He disappeared August 11, 1919 and on August 13 just three days less than a year later, he awoke in the St. Clair Hospital in Cleveland, Ohio, after being picked up in a dazed condition on the street.

Memory returned quickly and he asked for his mother, Mrs. Ada Foley, giving her Kansas City address, and on August 9 the mother received a telegram notifying her that the son she had mourned as dead was alive. A quick recovery and Foley returned home, his memory fully restored, but with the events of the year a hazy dream.

PRISONERS VOTED IS CHARGED

Removal of Pike-co Election Officials Asked by Citizen

COLUMBUS. — (By Associated Press.) — Secretary of State Smith Friday received a petition from Joseph Smith, a taxpayer of Waverly, Pike-co, asking for the removal of Dr. George B. Nye and Stewart West, members of the Pike-co election board, and A. S. Keochle, clerk of the board, on charges of fraudulently and illegally casting votes at the recent primary election.

The petition states that West and Keochle aided Nye and charged some prisoners in the county jail were voted by Nye under the sent voters' law.

Dr. Nye, in 1911, pleaded guilty to accepting a bribe while a member of the Ohio house of representatives, but sentence was suspended.

A second affidavit filed by Philip Schwartz of Waverly, makes a general charge of incompetency against the entire board, naming in addition to Nye, Stewart and Keochle, members G. S. Hill and H. C. Smith.

Two of the alleged fraudulent votes cast were by Bruce Depugh and Andy Wilson, in the general election of 1918. Both are alleged to have been confined in the county jail at the time. Other fraudulent votes cast are said to have been cast by S. Manhevers, Jacob Dorst and Fred Witter at the August primaries, 1920.

Smith's affidavit also asserts that Dr. Nye is commissioner of public health for Pike-co and therefore is ineligible to hold both public offices.

Secretary of State Smith has not yet set a date for hearing of the charges.

BRYAN TO SPEAK

WASHINGTON. — (By United Press.) — William Jennings Bryan who has been silent on politics since the Democratic national convention, will make his first extended speech here Friday night before the 15th International Anti-Alcoholic congress.

What Bryan intends saying is a mystery even to his closest friends. Politicians are waiting with interest to see whether he will explain his position on the presidential campaign.

Bryan has been given an entire evening for his speech, an honor accorded no other speaker.

Five women were on the program for the congress Friday. They were Miss Harriet Crommelin, Holland; Henry W. Peabody, Beverly, Mass.; Miss Cora Frances Stoddard, Boston; Miss Ruth E. Sperce, Toronto, Ont.; and Miss Agnes Slack, England.

Prohibition in Europe must come thru alignment of the temperance organizations with Christian trades unions and workmen's organizations. Miss Crommelin asserted in her address.

DEATHS BY ACCIDENT. — GALLIPOLIS. — Lafayette Dennis was killed and Edward A. Jr. probably fatally injured in an accident at the Vulcan mine on Thomas Fork Friday.

Patrick Maloney of Nitro, W. Va., was drowned while bathing in the Ohio river, Thursday night. The body has not been recovered.

VOLSTEAD ACT WARRANTS MUST NOT BE BASED ON BELIEF, COURT RULES

COLUMBUS. — Federal Judge John E. Sater handed down a decision here Friday in a Dayton case holding that under the Volstead act, prohibition enforcement officers cannot base an affidavit for a search warrant upon anonymous information, supposition or belief. The decision held that officers must be possessed of actual knowledge that an offense is being committed against the government at a definitely ascertained place by a definitely determined person.

Federal prohibition officials here said the decision "throws a monkey wrench" into prohibition enforcement machinery.

BIRDS DEFEAT AN AIRPLANE

American Tells Story of Attack on Big Machine

AVIATOR NARROWLY ESCAPES

Feathered Enemy Drives Airship From the Air

LONDON. — Probably the most unusual story in the history of aviation, of how he was attacked, brought down and narrowly escaped death as the result of an attack by a flock of small birds while flying in a scout machine near El Mir, Egypt, is told by Lieutenant John Sharpe Griffiths, of Los Angeles, who has just returned from that place. Griffiths is the only American to hold a permanent commission in the British Royal Air Force.

"I was flying along as peacefully as you please to the airframe of 70 Squadron, of which I was a member, about 11 o'clock in the morning, when I first noticed a flock of birds, which resembled our black birds, flying over me. At first I paid scarcely any attention to them, and when they flew in front of me, I merely banked, turned to the left.

"However, they followed me. I then turned again, this time I had a little more difficulty in avoiding hitting them with the propeller of my machine. After several turns I came to the conclusion that they were trying to damage the machine. As each time they got within striking distance of the wings they would dive and peck at them. Of course, it was very difficult for me to believe this, for although I have heard of eagles attacking aviators before, I never heard of any smaller birds, or flocks of smaller birds attempting to fight an airplane, but as their activities to tear holes in the fabric of my plane's wings continued, I came to the conclusion that such was the case.

"I then put the machine thru all the tricks I knew, rolling, looping, diving, doing tumbling turns, and diving in turn but the birds followed me and it seemed that their numbers increased.

BREAK PROPELLER. "Coming out of a dive the inevitable happened. They flew straight into the propeller of my machine, breaking its blades. The next thing I knew the machine was doing a spinning nose dive earthward with numerous dead birds killed by the propeller of my machine falling beside me while the others continued to follow me down.

"Eventually I righted the machine and started to glide down, but the birds still followed and as the speed of the plane had greatly diminished they were able to light on it. When about 50 feet from the earth they jammed my rudder control wires and the machine went down out of control and crashed, escaped with a bad shaking up and a few scratches. When the machine landed the birds flew away."

The fellows who used to name the Pullman cars are now spending all their time naming the new almost-drinks.

Bergdoll Draft Case May Go to Jury Today

PHILADELPHIA. — (By United Press.) — The case of Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll and five other defendants charged with conspiracy to enable her sons, Erwin and Grover to evade the draft, was expected to go to the jury by night.

Theodore L. Bean, counsel for Mrs. Bergdoll, her son, Charles Braun, James E. Romig, Albert S. Mitchell and Harry Schub, said he would close his case with the introduction of a few additional witnesses. One of these witnesses, it was said, would be Neil Emerson, 20, who has been identified as Neil Erlich, of Lynchburg, Va. Thomas E. Furey, Pittsburgh, Pa., chief witness for the government, have testified she was Erwin Bergdoll's companion while he was sought by federal authorities.

Mrs. Bergdoll caused a sensation by testifying it was she, not Grover, who buried the $105,000 in gold in the Maryland mountains. She said she wanted the money for herself in case of a "rainy day" and that she had no faith in banks. She denied sending money to Grover Erwin, while they were fugitives from justice. She said she had attempted to persuade the boys to give themselves up, and in this connection had enlisted Romig's aid.

An actress who was collecting all-money from four husbands had a bit of hard luck recently. One of them died and another went into bankruptcy.

CIVIL SERVICE BOARD SCORED FOR DESTROYING EXAMINATION PAPERS

COLUMBUS. — Action of the civil service commission of Warren in throwing away examination papers as soon as graded is scored in a report of the state commission, on complaint of J. P. Durkin, Warren Patrolman.

Durkin failed to pass examination recently for patrolman and demanded to see his papers. He was told, he said, that it was the practice of the commission to discard papers as soon as graded.

The state commission warned the Warren body that such action was illegal, and has its assurance, the report said, that it will be discontinued.

The statement is submitted to Mayor McBride without comment, leaving any action for reinstatement or re-examination of Durkin up to him.

TWO INJURED IN WRECK

SHELBY. — W. J. Schwind, engineer, and John F. Conners, fireman, Cleveland, are in a hospital here Friday, suffering from slight injuries received when their engine, hauling Big Four passenger train No. 14, overturned and plunged down an embankment near here shortly before midnight Thursday.

Two passenger coaches left the tracks but did not overturn.

MOTHER AND CHILD DIE

Mrs. Cora Belle Sawmiller, 45, wife of Marion Sawmiller, 1150 N. Elizabeth-st., died Friday morning at the city hospital. Her infant child, born a few hours before, also died. The body was removed to the Eckert mortuary. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

LEYGUES CHOSEN

former Member Clemenceau Cabinet Accepts Millerand Offer

PARIS. — (By Associated Press.) — Georges Leygues, minister of marine in the Clemenceau cabinet, has accepted a call to the first premiership under President Millerand's administration, it was announced this afternoon. He will likewise act as foreign minister.

Georges Leygues, who became minister of marine when Premier Clemenceau formed his cabinet in November, 1917, a few months after the entry of the United States in the war, served in that post through the remainder of the world conflict, contributing notably to the success of the allies in the long struggle they waged toward the ending of German submarine warfare. He retired from ministerial office last January with the resignation of M. Clemenceau.

M. Leygues began his political career as a member of the chamber, which he entered in 1884. He will be 62 years of age in November.

POLICE GIVEN WARNING CANTON HOTEL TO BURN; PLACE UNDER GUARD

CANTON. — The police department announced that they are investigating the finding of a warning note in a mail box several days ago announcing that the Courtland hotel was to be destroyed yesterday at 12:45 o'clock. The hotel was placed under guard of plain clothes men but no suspicious persons were found on the property.

Prices are not back on a before-the-war basis—but here they are lots "easier" than they have been. For we early made up our minds to put out this Fall's shoes at the lowest prices that our great volume of business, with the shortest of profits, would permit.

Men's Thoughts Now Turn to New Fall Shoes

Whether you fellows have decided to wear high shoes this Fall—or low shoes with spats or wool hose—you probably have noticed that your Summer shoes are getting a bit "seedy"; so you need a new pair.

The Fall prices are well within range of a moderate purse. There has been no general "break" in prices, but at Gooding's you will note a downward trend from the top levels of last Spring. We bought wisely and have determined to market this Fall's shoes at the lowest margins of profit in all our history. New "Brogue" oxfords and high shoes—and other new ones—are ready.

VAST TRACT WILL BE IRRIGATED

Area Larger Than Massachusetts to be Made Fertile

SPOKANE, Wash.—The irrigation of a vast desert land, larger in area than the State of Massachusetts and more fertile than any in the United States, known as the Columbia River Basin, in Eastern Washington, is to be accomplished when water is turned upon 1,750,000 acres of the land. This land has heretofore yielded a large crop of sagebrush. The great sanded tract has waited since the beginning of time for the ingenuity of engineers to quench its thirst. The plans for the irrigation of the Columbia Basin have been completed by A. J. Turner, veteran reclamation engineer, and have been approved by State and Federal authorities.

The watering of the desert land or the eastern Washington valleys has long been the dream of its settlers. Acres of ruined orchards and wheat fields gone to waste attest the hardy efforts of farmers for decades to make the great basin productive of wheat.

RURAL SCHOOLS LACK TEACHERS

Instructors Go Where Conditions
Are Better

COLUMBUS — Ohio's one-room country schools are going begging for teachers, who are passing up the comparative hardships of country "school marming," to accept positions in the city, village and centralized rural schools.

That report was made here by Vernon M. Riegel, state superintendent of public instruction, after an exhaustive survey of teaching conditions in Ohio.

Shortage of teachers in every class of schools in the state with the exception of the one-room schools, is negligible. The reason mainly is higher salaries, Riegel said, but other things that enter in are better working conditions, broader opportunity, more chances for advancement and better living conditions.

The situation is being improved, Riegel said, in the following manner:

Boards of education must improve conditions of existing schools, get better equipment, repair and modernize buildings and bring housing and teaching conditions up to the minute.

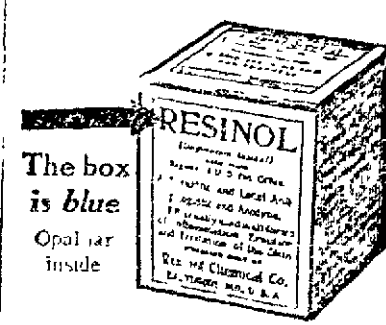

Recruitment of the system so that teachers will not be required to teach all of the eight grades.

Providing homes for teachers with all comforts and conveniences, at a reasonable cost.

Young people who reside in the country should be encouraged to enter the teaching profession. "They must not refuse or neglect to obtain the necessary training and expect to slip in at the last minute at the expense of children of the district," Riegel declared.

Shortage of teachers will continue to exist in these districts, Riegel asserted, until the above things are not completely done and will continue to be so.

Be sure to get real Resinol

If you want to get rid of eczema, pimples, or other distressing skin eruptions, you will accept no "substitute" for Resinol. Preparations similar in name or appearance are not "just the same as Resinol." Although unscrupulous dealers may come along and offer Resinol, they are often crudely made, of little benefit, power, and some may even be dangerous to use. Buy in the original blue package.

Old Age Deferred

By DR. LEE H. SMITH.

Business men who must speed up the works and make business boom during these days—after the war—must recognize the necessity of keeping fit. When mind is befogged, when you have dull headaches or feel lousy, when not "up to snuff," keep the bowels free with a mild laxative. In the morning take a tepid sponge bath (cold water may be used if it does not chill), follow with a brisk rub down; a sufficient "setting up" exercise in good air until you are in a warm glow. Have you tried it lately?

Don't let the poisons accumulate in the intestines either, but try a dose of castor oil the first thing on arising, or a pleasant laxative occasionally, such as one made up of May-apple, aloin and jalap, rolled into a tiny sugar-coated pill, and sold in every drug store as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Then a cup of hot water before breakfast, and you'll feel better than a king! If you continue in life thus, you can pass a life insurance examination at sixty.

If you wish to prevent old age coming on too soon, or if you want to increase your chances for a long life, you should drink plenty of soft (rain) or distilled water daily between meals. Then procure at the drug store Dr. Pierce's Anurie (anti-uric-acid). This "Anurie" drives the uric acid out and relieves backache and rheumatism, as well as kidney trouble. Anurie dissolves uric acid. Try it now!

ONE very good way of keeping up with the fashions is to visit the Feldman shops, for one is sure to find not only the newest in style, but the best and most approved, for our modes are distinct for their good taste as well as for their individuality.

The Suits

—are trim and slender of line, with a preference for smart, silk stitching and fur as adornment. The new colorings are rightly named—Pine Needle, Moonstone, Malay and Bedouin, and in fabrics—one finds Veldyne, Yalama Cloth and Duvet de Laine.

The suit sketched at the left is of frost glow in Copen. The back flares unbelted from the shoulders. There are two wide panels with a row of buttons in between. The collar and bottom of the panels are trimmed with Scotch mole. The side is adorned with silk stitching.

In the suit shop on the second floor one finds a very unusual display of tailored suits full of originality. They are priced at

$49.50 to $298.50The Coats

—are loose and full, and many show the smart Blouse back. Wolf, Beaver, Mole and Australian Opposum Fur add to the charm of the new fabrics—Veldyne, Bolivia, Chamostyne and Orlando.

There are fall weight models for present wear—just the sort of wraps you will need for the first chilly days of fall. They are priced at

$35.00 to $159.50The Dresses

—demand above all that they should be trimmed. Some show the most gorgeous of beaded and embroidered designs—Egyptian or Chinese in effect. Loose side panels, wide flaring sleeves—smart knife pleating are further marks of the newest mode as found in cloth frocks—Trottores, Duvetins and Seracs—and also new satins.

The smartest and most becoming types of the new season are now being shown in our dress section on the second floor. They are very modestly priced at

20,000 TO BE IN LEGION PARADE

50 Bands to Furnish Music for Cleveland Pageant

HALF HOLIDAY PROCLAIMED

Schools and Factories to Shut Down Monday

CLEVELAND (By Associated Press)—Indications Friday were that the largest crowd that ever visited Cleveland will be here for the parade of the American Legion, which will be held Monday afternoon, the opening day of the three-day convention.

Mayor Fitzgibbon has proclaimed a half holiday during the parade. Schools will be dismissed for the afternoon and many factories and offices have announced they will close. Approximately 20,000 men and women representing more than 2,000,000 of those who gave military service during the world war, will march, Colonel J. R. Dequing, chief marshal of the parade, declared, and about fifty bands will provide the music.

Many delegates to the convention arrived Thursday night and Friday. Among them are H. H. Hagan, chairman of the Oklahoma delegation, and J. C. Chaffield, state adjutant of Oklahoma. They declared Oklahoma would seek a more liberal interpretation of the legion's non-political clause in the constitution.

Messages of greetings were received Friday from Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican presidential candidate, Governor James M. Cox, Democratic presidential candidate, Secretary of War Baker and Secretary of the Navy Daniels.

COX'S MESSAGE
After welcoming the legion to Ohio, Governor Cox's message read in part:

"It is my hope that every request and recommendation made, and to be made by your body, will receive the serious consideration of all parties interested. Nothing would displease me more than to see our government and our people forget the great service rendered by your members in the successful world struggle in behalf of civilization. I hope the activities of your organization will assist in keeping fresh in the minds of our people the duty and obligation our country owes to those who served in time of need."

"I sincerely trust that your organization will continue to maintain and strive for high ideals, and that it will live, grow and flourish, and serve as a guide and inspiration to our future generations."

HARDING'S MESSAGE
Senator Harding expressed regret at being unable to be here and continued in part:

"Our soldiers, sailors and marines fought not as Republicans or Democrats but as citizens for the preservation of American rights and perpetuation of American ideals."

"Adhering to the non-partisan spirit of co-operation shown by all Americans during the war, the American Legion happily has expressed the determination to remain free from party politics. You cast your ballots not collectively, but as individuals, but your service with the colors has made you even more conscious of the necessity for preservation of our nationality. To the spirit of the American Legion, America now looks for leadership in maintaining the rights and ideals for which you fought."

AMERICANS KNOWN NOW AS "PRICERS"

LONDON—Americans in London, who used to enjoy a reputation for always putting their hands "into their pockets" are now accused of "keeping their hands on their pockets."

This endears them, rather than otherwise, to the hearts of the hard-up Londoners, who for years have held that "a fellow feeling makes us wondrous kind."

But the storekeepers have other views. As a home in the Burlington Arcade, a place where a score of that fat roll of notes he had always associated with American purchases, said:

"Americans have no money this season. They really do nothing but ask the price of things. It is the Continentals who have the money. We have sold more to French and Spanish visitors in the last month than to Americans in the whole season. The Continentals are full of money. Therefore the Continentals reap the salesman's smiles."

Now that the Englishman knows the American as a "pricer" it adds to the bond of friendship, for "pricing the goods" is about as far as the average Englishman's purchases ever get.

ST. MARYS.—Rev. F. H. Ruppa, pastor of the St. Marys Reformed church, was elected president of the central synod of the Reformed church at the meeting this week in Toledo. He has had a successful pastorate of more than six years in St. Marys.

Goes Over Bank

NEWARK, O.—Charles A. Deibel, 712 Wilson-ave, Columbus, representing the Jupiter Oil Company of Columbus, was instantly killed Friday morning at 9 o'clock on the National pike one mile east of Jacksonton, when his automobile skid-ded and turned over an embankment. He was crushed to death. John L. Eberle, his companion, escaped injuries when he was thrown clear of the machine. They were en route to the oil fields near Grant. The body was taken to Hiram.

OTTAWA.—Twelve better calves were distributed to 11 boys and one girl, at Bluffton. 6 of the boys were from Putnam-co, one from Hancock, one each from Hardin and Allen. The club is under supervision of the Four-County Holstein Association.

Why a Sale Now? Because

It has always been the policy of this store to show the new styles first and to attain this principal and ambition it has been very necessary to give our manufacturers early shipping dates to expect even reasonable early delivery on account of the congestion of conditions in transportation.

The past few seasons, merchants have been obliged to purchase beyond their requirements, that the quota would meet actual needs, and while there are no apparent prospects for any lowering of manufacturers' prices, they are now beginning to catch up with production.

Fall shipments arrived and have oversupplied us for the season, which of course we had not anticipated in the least. These goods must be paid for within the next two weeks and to meet this demand, we offer this "unusual" sale to the Men of Lima.

The merchandise we offer is crisp, new goods of meritorious quality at prices that will turn it into cash to meet our obligations and at the same time reduce our stocks in proportions to our needs.

As a suggestion, we advise an early visit to this store to purchase liberally, as the savings on each and every item will be surprising when you compare our regular prices with the sale price.

With the Holidays about ninety days off it is economy and fair judgment to purchase your supply of Christmas needs for Father, Brother, etc. Many are taking advantage of this idea—why not you?

This sale is now on its final Wind-Up—we anticipate thirteen days of brisk and 'peppy' selling. Do not hesitate to come and look over the many things that are on display. Again we say everything in the store has been placed under the cutting knife—nothing reserved. We must reduce our stocks.

ARMLESS MAN IS EXPERT AVIATOR

Easily Qualifies For Air Service
In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO. — The only armless birdman in the world is today skimming over the country surrounding San Francisco. And despite his physical handicap, L. C. Thornton, of Fresno, is qualifying as an expert aviator, his great ambition in life.

Three years ago Thornton lost both of his arms in a railroad wreck. Sheer determination and grit has led him to accomplish wonders since that time. He first wanted to drive an automobile. By rigging a steering wheel on the side of the steering wheel and with a hole punched in the rim of iron inside the wheel Thornton drives with ease.

Thornton recently joined an aviation school and has succeeded in learning the art of flying until he is an expert. He is a first-class mechanic and the proprietor of a machine shop in Fresno.

WEST VIRGINIANS VISIT HARDING

Delegation of 1500 Republicans At Marion Today

MARION, O.—(By United Press)—West Virginia sent a large delegation to the Harding front porch Friday. Advance announcements said 1,500 would come to Marion Friday, mostly by motor, to hear the Republican presidential nominee speak.

The delegation is made up of Republicans from Wheeling, Huntington and Parkersburg chiefly. The Senator is working hard at speeches to be delivered on his second speaking trip which begins with an address in Baltimore, Md., Monday night.

Contrary to the method pursued by Governor Cox, Harding is writing out his speeches in advance here in Marion, weighing every word carefully and revising them freely with the aid of many advisors. By this course, he hopes to avoid any trouble arising from saying the wrong thing in an extemporaneous speech.

His Baltimore speech is expected to deal with trade expansion and finance. He has written a budget speech which may be delivered at Wheeling, although this is not definitely settled. The afternoon speech at Ashland, Ky., Wednesday, has not yet been drafted.

3,000 OFF TO MARION
NEW YORK.—(By Associated Press)—Three thousand traveling salesmen from eastern cities planned to leave here late Friday on a special train for Marion, Ohio, to join the pilgrimage of the Harding-Coolidge Traveling Men's League, to be addressed Saturday by Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican candidate for president. It is estimated ten thousand "knights of the grip" from every state will hear the address.

KING IS CALLED

Former Lima Pastor Goes to Wapakoneta Church

The Rev. J. Norman King former pastor of Olivet Presbyterian church and later army chaplain, has been extended a call to the First Presbyterian church, Wapakoneta, and will commence his new duties there October 1. Rev. King since returning from the army, has occupied various secretarial positions, and lately has been employed as clerk to the Service Director, Elmer McClain.

Rev. King's services with the army reflected considerable credit upon him and he was decorated by the government. He will occupy the pulpit left vacant by the resignation of Rev. C. G. Johnson, some months ago.

STEEPLE JACK ESCAPES WHEN STACK FALLS

CINCINNATI.—Jesse Kenneth, a steeplejack, "rode" a falling stack at an ammonia manufacturing plant in this city and escaped with slight injuries. Kenneth explained that when the stack began to fall as a result of the weight of the scaffolding near the top, he got on the upper side of the stack so that he could keep his feet on the ground. He was pinned in a skylight for an hour before he was released.

WOMEN ARE FINED

Mrs. Nettie Pick, 40, was fined $50 and given a 30 day suspended sentence in the Toledo workhouse by Judge Emmett Jackson in criminal court Thursday afternoon on a charge of conducting a disorderly house at 406 N. Central-ave. Two other women taken in the raid, which was made by Chief of Police Roush and Plainclothesman Charles Billstine, were given fines of $25 and 30 days suspended sentences in the workhouse on charge of being inmates of the house.

PIPEFITTER LOCKED IN CELL WHILE WORKING IN POLICE STATION

CINCINNATI.—That it is easier to get into a police station cell than to get out of it, was demonstrated here when John Brown, one of four pipefitters overhauling the heating system in the city hall, had occasion to enter the cell room at central station. A short time after, he was missed by his fellow workers who started a search.

They found that Brown had been locked in a cell by Stationhouse keeper, John Mahlenkamp. Mahlenkamp said he had asked Brown what he was doing in the cell room. Brown replied, "I am at work here."

"Come on, I have heard that before. Get into this cell," said Mahlenkamp, locking Brown up.

GOVERNOR COX RECEIVES "GOOD LUCK" TOKEN

COLUMBUS.—A 35-year-old good luck token was received today at Governor Cox's office, with hopes for success in the governor's presidential aspirations. It came in an anonymous letter from a woman, and is a metal four-leaf clover, a relic of Grover Cleveland's campaign.

"Thirty-six years ago, I lived in a small town that was 99 per cent Republican. I took great pride in wearing this clover," wrote the woman.

CHURCHES ASKED TO CURB FIRES

Fire Prevention Sunday Set For October 10 in Ohio

COLUMBUS. — Fire prevention warnings in Ohio Sunday. Schools and churches are asked to be given in a bulletin issued here by State Fire Marshal Leonard.

Leonard asks that all pastors, and Sunday school teachers, bring to the attention of congregations, school members and parishioners the fact that more than 15,000 people are burned to death in the United States every year, 55 per cent from carelessness, and that the annual fire waste in this country is $150,000,000, 85 per cent of which is unnecessary.

Property loss in Ohio last year was $10,654,926, largest since 1901, according to Leonard. "Eighty-five per cent of that loss would have been preventable by using ordinary care," he added.

"Fires are increasing in acreage, losses and for the first six months of this year have piled up in blackened ruins nearly as much property as in the 12 months of 1919," the bulletin says.

"It is just as important to prevent fires as to fight them," the bulletin adds and says further:

"This year, with a coal shortage threatened, with the gas supply said to be low, people will turn to other means of heating their homes, for houses, stores and buildings. The new heat, whether it be oil or other agents, will engender fire hazard, not clearly understood, by the public and make for more fires.

The idea of Fire Prevention Day is to call to mind the necessity of going into the winter with fire and disease breeding hazards reduced to a minimum, and then, "practical fire prevention" rigidly the other 365 days of the year.

"We can do no more good for our country than by making it free of fires and needless fires and from the terrible toll of death now charged to the crime of carelessness."

OHIO CLERKS OF COURTS WANT LONGER TERMS

CADIZ — The county clerks of courts of Ohio will make an organized effort at the next session of the general assembly to have their tenure of office increased from two to four years, as was done for the county auditors at the last session. An organization called the State Clerk of Courts Association has been formed with the following officers: John F. Konkler, president, Lancaster; G. R. Winegarner, vice president, Columbus; Francis E. Hamilton, secretary, Cadiz; R. S. Sloan, treasurer, Ashland and Jesse G. Francis of Youngstown, chairman of the legislative committee.

Best Scratch Feed in City $1.45 per cwt. at Dorsey's.

You Can't Brush Or Wash Out Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

"My Stomach Was In Awful Shape"

Was also badly constipated; had no appetite and rest was broken at night. Gives praise to Dr. Geo. for quick relief.

"I have taken the new root and herb juice remedy, Dr. Geo. and find that it had materially helped my digestion. My bowels now move smoothly and regular every day, and I have more vigor, energy and vital force than in a long time. Altho I am 65 years old, Dr. Geo. has done me worlds of good." The sex are the words of that highly respected citizen, Mr. J. M. Orro of 125 Edgewood-ave, Dayton, O.

Like hundreds of others he didn't think anything could relieve him. He had lost faith and given up hope, content to struggle thru existence as best he could. Like scores of others, some friend told him about Dr. Geo. and the wonderful work it was reported to be doing in just such cases as his. He tried it as a last resort, and now, after only one bottle, he gladly tells the world how he is wiped out his ailments and he is once more able to enjoy his work and his meals.

Men and women who think their cases hopeless, are advised to try Dr. Geo. and see for themselves why hundreds of others are now praising it, wherever they go. Stomach troubles, catarrh, constipation, kidney and liver complaints, blood disorders and similar diseases are reported every day quickly relieved by this wonderful medicinal discovery.

All druggists now sell Dr. Geo. and it is being especially introduced in Lima by Baldwin Central Drug Store, Cor. Main and High-sts.—Adv.

Too Weak to Do Anything

The ordinary every-day life of most women is a ceaseless treadmill of work. How much harder the tasks become when some derangement peculiar to her sex makes every movement painful, and keeps the nervous system all unstrung until life seems hardly worth living. Every woman in this condition should profit by the experience of these two women whose letters follow.

Read the Experience of These Two Women

Reading, Pa. — "I had organic inflammation, pains in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then in bed, and after the first bottle I could be out of bed, then I took Vegetable Compound Tablets and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and also used the Sanative Wash. I still take the medicine and am able now to do my own housework. My friends say, 'My! but you look well—what do you do? Who is your doctor?' And there is only one answer, 'Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine which I gladly recommend.'" —Mrs. W. M. STREIN, 560 Douglas Street, Reading, Pa.

Gainesville, Tex. — "For three years I suffered untold agony each month with pains in my side. I found only temporary relief in doctor's medicine or anything else I took until my husband and I saw an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I mentioned it to a neighbor and she told me she had taken it with good results, and advised me to try it. I was then in bed part of the time, and my doctors said I would have to be operated on, but we decided to try the Vegetable Compound, and I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am a dressmaker and am now able to go about my work, and do my housework besides. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial as I am always glad to speak a word for your medicine." —Mrs. W. M. STREIN, 202 Harvey St., Gainesville, Texas.

HIGH RENT IS NOT WORST EVIL

Domestic Arbitrator Says Mother-in-Law Still Mars

By MARGERY REX
NEW YORK — High rents are indicted on new charges.

Vast monthly and yearly tolls raise
our purses to a miserable flatness.
People who used to save in order to buy homes, automobiles, life insurance, clothes and education for the children, now find everything has become—for the average man or woman —subservient to the problem of paying the rent.

High rents and the flat shortage break homes, charges Mrs. Julia Mc-Guire, arbitrator of the Court of Domestic Relations in Chicago, who has arrived at this alarming conclusion after "listening in" on the woes of the wedded.

But large rentals and scarcity of dwellings alone cannot separate man from his brand-new wife. The newlyweds' new obstacle to happiness, according to Mrs. McGuire, is one of the oldest excuses in the world for marital troubles. It is an immemorial joke and theme of comic song. It is our old celebrated friend, the mother-in-law.

Not mother-in-law in the newlyweds' home taking sides and backing, as popularly supposed, but ensconced with her own household goods, reigning and wrangling, as unwilling hostess to the homeless lovers.

Mrs. McGuire says:
"Discord breaks the harmony of their new happiness almost immediately. These couples are coming to court daily in increasing numbers.
These newlyweds own nothing,
neither have they anything to lose,
and little differences are soon magni-fyed into consequential in such environment. The mothers-in-law refuse to let them adjust their differences once they come into court.

They place every obstacle in their way."

Another black mark against the woman who, by the marriage of her son or daughter, becomes the supposedly hated in-law.

Rents, of course, are high in Chicago, greatest city of the Middle West. But what of New York, where land values are so great in all parts of the city that the poorest tenement dares to ask a good round, but by no means square, sum for the privilege of its shelter?

There have not been so many ships
'twixt cups and lips since people have been drinking it out of bottles.

Fall Apparel of Rare Distinction and Individuality at Prices Within the Bounds of Reason

Individuality is the one ideal every woman strives for in her costume. No matter how correct the style, and how superb the materials, if her clothes are not suited to her personality, her temperament—in a word—to her particular "type", her costume is a failure. Gregg styles are always correct and authentic in every detail, conform to the mode, and yet step just a little above the mode in their effort to avoid the commonplace, the faddish and the overdone styles.

Tailleur and Costume Suits

$39.75 to $250

The highest quality of man-made tailoring distinguishes these Suits which are developed in the rich, soft fabrics that lend suppleness and grace to one's figure. The most authentic, most charming of all the style features of this Fall—a season in which many types of women have come into their own, are represented in this display. You can choose with absolute confidence.

These frocks of Tricotine achieve utmost distinction by the use of embroideries whose designs have been inspired by the Balkans, Persia, China and Egypt.

Tailleur Frocks of Cloth

Long, loose waist lines and extreme simplicity are the predominating note of the 1920-21 silhouette in frocks. Warm, serviceable materials, such as Duvel De Laine, Serge and Tricotine are used, often heavily headed in rich colors or steel-headed or lavishly embroidered in Oriental motifs.

YOUR NAME

By PHILIP FRANCIS NOWLAN

DIYER
VARIATIONS—Later.
RACIAL ORIGIN—English.
SOURCE—An occupation.

The family name of Dyer is quite recognizable by the modern English-speaker as having developed from a word denoting an occupation. That is because in this case both the word denoting the occupation and the name have changed similarly from the original form, and have not, as in many cases, drifted apart. Nevertheless the original word would be unrecognizable to the average person today.

In the Middle Ages it was spelled "Deyhere" or "Dighstere." But if you will soften that pronunciation of the "gh" to a barely audible guttural as it was pronounced then, you'll find it very easy to slip it a bit further to a "y" sound. And that is precisely the manner in which common speech, over the period of several centuries which have elapsed since the formation of family names began, has softened it into "Dyer," together with the broadening of the short "i" or indefinite "e" in the modern English long "i."

"Lit" was another old English word which meant "dye." In a medieval manuscript there occurs the following passage: "We use na clathis that are litte of dyverse colours." (We use no clothes that are dyed in diverse colors). The "lister" or the "lister" was simply a dye. Originally either of these words were used, but in the course of time the pronunciation of the latter has prevailed as coming more smoothly from the tongue. It has been preserved as a family name, but as an ordinary word it has passed out of use.

MARTIN & MARTIN, Chicago

To J. H. McClure, Vice President of the Ohio Electric

DEAR MAC: On two or three occasions during the last few days I have been scared beyond words while riding down hill on your street cars with motormen bent upon making up time they had lost. I noticed they paid no attention to crossings but threw the controller over into high and, I suppose, hoped nothing would get in the way.

Some of your tracks are not the smoothest and your single-truck cars trundled along at such high speed bounce about on the track in a most disagreeable manner. Some of these days one will hit a tree or telephone pole and a big hole will be knocked in the profits by the payment for some deaths and broken bones.

Put a speed limit on the boys, Mac, especially on the hills, and see that they observe it.

To Those Who Want to See Lima Boom

FRIENDS: There will be a big meeting at Memorial Hall tonight in which you are interested. There is also going to be a campaign opened in which you will be asked to assist to make this a greater city. You owe it to yourself and the city to get back of the Chamber of Commerce. You will have a chance soon. Be ready to do your share.

To Henry Ford and H. H. Franklin, Automobile Manufacturers

KIND FRIENDS: Allow me to congratulate you on the great service you have just done in making sweeping reductions in the price of your cars and thus starting something everyone has been hoping for. It required much of what the boys call nerve to do what you did in view of conditions.

By your lead you have not only aided those who will buy your products, but you have set the pace for others to follow. I want to thank you on behalf of your many friends.

To Those Who Will Winter in California

FRIENDS: It is a sad duty, but I must break the news. It will cost you a neat sum to get to the sunny clime of California this winter. The rates have not yet been announced but I understand they will be more than $90. You as well as I, who must stay home and hope for coal, have something to worry about.

DEAR PAT: Please pardon the familiarity but I have seen you in baseball uniform cavorting around like a boy so much recently that I feel I'm pretty well acquainted with you. Your congregation and the city as a whole owes you much and should rejoice with you over the completion of this great task.

To Owners of Automobiles

MY FRIENDS: I have noticed a carelessness on your part in the parking of your machines which is most annoying. Many of you drive up to the curb close enough to another machine to prevent another from driving in but leave a few feet between and thus waste much valuable parking space in the downtown section. Please use a little more care and utilize all available space and oblige.

To the Coal Dealers

BOYS, can't you get me some coal? Are you making every possible effort to get enough to keep me warm this winter?

So far the most of what I have seen has been dust and dirt and there has been little of that. Please, I implore you, get on the job and get some real coal. Leave the mine run for the factory boilers and the lake steamers.

DEAR FRIENDS: During the war I applauded when you cut the size of the portions to help win the struggle. Now I would be as enthusiastic if you can find some way to get prices down so they will compare favorably with other cities at least.

To City Council

GENTLEMEN: You are to be congratulated on your decision to put in new sidewalks where property owners fail to do so and charge it against the property. I am with you in this matter for the sidewalks in many sections are a disgrace.

Property owners have been too lax in repairing or building walks. You will be able to find plenty of it to do and I hope you will make a complete job of it when you get started.

To County Commissioners

GENTLEMEN: I am pleased with what you have done for the country roads this summer. There has been a big improvement in many places due to your careful handling of finances. I hope you will be able to do more next year for much work is needed.

To Certain Street Car Advertisers

To Fire Chief Mack

DEAR JOHN: Recently I have noticed that many of your men become winded when subjected to considerable work. What are you doing to keep them in good physical condition? You know it is easy for men to get soft and flabby thru lack of exercise. Other cities have taken care of this by prescribing a course of exercise and it has been found to be most beneficial.

How Will Labor Vote?

Labor is torn by conflicting feelings as it prepares to vote in the approaching Presidential election, if we may judge by the papers that claim to speak for it. It is told by Mr. Gompers that Cox is labor's true friend; it is told by Republican leaders that Harding's election will mean prosperity and the "full dinner-pail," and is assured by more radical advisers that Debs or Christensen is the only true apostle of freedom. Any one who can poll all or even a large part of the labor vote would, of course, win hands down, but how the worker will vote after all this contrary advice nobody seems to know. No one, at least, is predicting the election of Christensen or Debs, so the choice narrows down to the two journalists from Ohio. An interesting omission is the absence of any appeal to the workers to vote for this or that candidate to restore the workman's beer.

Telegrams sent by THE LITERARY DIGEST to the Labor press, for light on the probable complexion of labor's vote this year, bring replies that give an impression of cross currents and confusion. However, at this stage of the campaign, it is undoubtedly the only line that the public can get upon the probable attitude of organized labor in the coming election.

The leading article in THE DIGEST this week, September 25th, presents the subject in an interesting and comprehensive form. It will be read with interest by hundreds of thousands of men and women.

SOLDIER PAPERS "CONTROLLED"

Guided by Both Old Parties, Witness Tells Probers

TESTIFIES IN FUND QUIZ

"Stars and Stripes Under Democrats, Legion Under G. O. P."

WASHINGTON. — (By Associated Press.)—The Stars and Stripes, a soldier publication, is controlled by the Democratic national committee, and the American Legion weekly, another soldier publication, is controlled by the Republican national committee, Joseph L. Heffernan, secretary-treasurer of the Stars and Stripes Publishing company, testified Friday before the senate campaign investigating committee.

Heffernan also testified that a man named Waldo, purporting to represent the Dupont interests, had sought to obtain control of the Stars and Stripes, and when he failed to do so he threatened that the publication would receive no advertising from large interests. The witness added that the paper had been unable to obtain advertising from such interests.

Heffernan told the committee that "ten of us who got out the paper on the other side" had organized the publishing company here and owned most of the stock. Efforts were made, he said, to prevent the use of the name, among others opposing it being Secretary of War Baker.

SOUGHT ASSURANCE

When organizing the paper, the witness said, he went to Democratic national headquarters as he wanted to get some assurance that the company would not pass a law prohibiting the use of the name.

"I saw there, Mrs. E. M. Parks, told her of the situation and asked for some help," he said.

"She was the secretary of W. D. Jamieson, director of finance for the Democratic national committee," he said.

"I think so," Heffernan continued. "We came to an arrangement by which 100,000 shares of the corporation stock were issued. The ten of us engaged in the publication took 45,000 shares and 55,000 were assigned to her. She has so far furnished $45,000 for the publication."

"Does that mean that Mrs. Parks personally or the national committee?" Chairman Kenyon asked.

"I have no way of knowing," Heffernan replied.

"So we have a situation by which this paper is controlled by the Democratic national committee?" asked Chairman Kenyon.

"And Mr. Dupont, of the Republican national committee is endeavoring to get that control?" asked Senator Reed, Democrat of Missouri.

"Yes," Heffernan replied. "The witness then declared the American Legion Weekly is controlled by the Republican national committee."

"How can you make that statement?" demanded Senator Edge, Republican of New Jersey, to participate in an investigation by the senate campaign investigating committee into the political activities of the Stars and Stripes. "I was challenged before the committee Friday by Heffernan. He said he had information that Senator Edge was involved in 'some scheme, whatever it is, against us.'"

Senator Edge demanded the name of the person who had informed Heffernan and was finally told that Richard S. Jones, an associate in the Stars and Stripes office, was the man. Jones was ordered subpoenaed.

Heffernan previously had testified that his paper, despite "a bona fide circulation of 100,000, had been unable to obtain advertising. He said he had information that Senator Edge recently had participated in conferences with men interested in preventing the Stars and Stripes from obtaining advertising."

PAPER THREATENED
Before Heffernan challenged Senator Edge, he said that attempts to purchase the service paper had been made by a man named Waldo, who he said was "connected with the Duponts, who are connected with foreign language newspapers."

Waldo, the witness said, had told members of the Stars and Stripes that if they did not sell out they would get no advertising and be bankrupt in six months.

The witness named several men whom he said his information showed had been active in "the scheme" against the paper and in conferences with Senator Edge. Senator Edge said he knew only one of the men named even by name and none of them by sight.

STEWART TESTIFIES

R. P. Stewart, assistant attorney general, whose name was mentioned Thursday before the senate campaign investigating committee in connection with the Democratic national convention at San Francisco and his travel to that city at public expense, told the committee that he went to the Pacific coast in connection with the prosecution of fraud cases. He was heard at his own request.

"We had a number of shipyard cases in the northwest," Mr. Stewart said, "involving frauds and frequent requests came from attorneys in charge locally for assistance. I talked it over with Judge Ains and he decided it was necessary for men to go."

The witness also mentioned the proceedings started against John Grunau, leader of the switchmen's strike. On his trip, he said, he stopped in Chicago, went to Seattle, and later arrived at San Francisco, conferring with local attorneys at all three places.

"At San Francisco, after clearing up the matters in question, I took my annual leave, beginning June 25," he said, "and made no charge to the government for the period following."

PERSONS HE SAW

Chairman Kenyon questioned the witness as to "the number of persons he saw."

FORMER AMERICAN GIRL ENGAGED TO MARRY UNCLE OF BRITISH KING

Lady Essex and the Duke of Connaught.

NEW YORK. — New York society has shown a lively interest in the newest love affair of Lady Essex, formerly the beautiful Adèle Grant of this city, whose engagement to the Duke of Connaught, uncle of King George V, is about to be announced. This is the first time that an American woman has been betrothed to a member of the British royal family.

Adèle Grant became the bride of the Earl of Essex at a most impressive wedding in St. Margaret's church, in London, on Dec. 14, 1895. It was the only second marriage. Two children were born of the union, the Lady Iris May in 1896 and the Lady Joan Rachel in 1899. The Essex title, however, passed at the Earl's death in 1916 to his son by his first marriage, who was known as Viscount Malden.

DID USEFUL WAR WORK
During the war the countess devoted herself to relief work. Every morning, regardless of weather, she started out for work with Queen Mary's Needlework Guild, where with a large number of other ladies, she was busy over thousands of respirators for the soldiers in the trenches against gas attacks, rolling bandages, sewing, packing and cutting.

She served on the executive committee of the urban council for war relief, was president of the soldiers and sailors families' association and a member of a board in a rescue fund. She belonged to the women's emergency committee.

Night after night during the cold winter, Lady Essex would take her place at some small railroad station and hand out to tired soldiers, on their way to the front, on leave or to hospitals, hot coffee and sandwiches and tobacco. Canteens established in the cities for recreation purposes were largely responsible for the uplift of the morale among the soldiers, and to this work the countess gave her time and interest, also. Her daughter, Lady Iris, took a course in nursing and entered one of the hospitals.

INFLUENCE OF THE COUNTESS.
The late Earl of Essex, whose full name was George Deserex de Vere, married in 1852 the daughter of William Harford, who left him a widower in 1855 with one child, a son, who is now the earl.

At one time the earl announced his intention of running for the London county council as a representative of the borough of Marylebone. His life having been one, more conspicuous for private extravagance than for public service, the announcement was received by his friends as proof of his lordship's desire to accomplish something that should be accounted as a good work in life. There was no doubt that the salutary change in Lord Essex was brought about by the influence of his young and beautiful wife, who, it seems, started in to set him an example of beneficent activity by employing the department of justice he saw at San Francisco at the time of the Democratic national convention, where Attorney General Palmer was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president. Mr. Stewart replied that a "Mr. Foster and Ralph Kelly, two special agents concerned in the shipyard investigation at Seattle were there. He also saw N. J. Neal, acting chief of the bureau of investigation at San Francisco during the convention."

Others named by the witness were John Lasky, district attorney for the District of Columbia, who was a delegate; Robert T. Scott, private secretary to the attorney general; Thomas J. Spellacy, an assistant attorney general and J. P. Creighton.

"How many district attorneys did you see there?" asked Chairman Kenyon.

"I saw Mr. E. S. Wertz, of Cleveland," Mr. Stewart replied. "Mr. Cyrus of Chicago and John Merion, assistant district attorney at Detroit."

Chairman Kenyon asked for the number of United States marshals attending. Mr. Stewart said he knew only Marshal McCarthy, of the Southern New York district.

MINERS RESTLESS

Union Officials in Ohio Seek to Avert Coal Strike

BRIDGEPORT, Ohio. — (By United Press.)—An effort was being made Friday by officials of the Eastern Ohio Miners' Union to head off a threatened strike of coal miners Saturday.

Letters were sent to all sub-districts, urging against the strike.

These letters followed a conference of union officials here Thursday. State officers, district officers and members of the scale committee, signed the requests.

Leaders brought about the strike threat thru dissatisfaction with the contract made recently between union officials and mine operators. The men want pay for all stone removed while the contract calls for payment for removal of stone that is thicker than 12 inches.

A convention of miners will be held in Martin's Ferry September 24, for discussion of the situation, it was announced.

WOMEN LEAP FROM CAR, SAVE LIVES AT CROSSING

The automobile was almost a perfect wreck. The women left the scene of the accident before their names could be ascertained.

JAZZ IS VULGAR SAYS OKLAHOMA DANCE MAN

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. — "Jazz" music has been barred from Oklahoma City's largest dance hall, The Auditorium.

C. W. Connally, owner of the terrace-dance academy, in making this announcement said: "It is for both moral and business reasons that we are cutting out the jazz."

"I am convinced, from long experience in management of public dances, that people will dance what you play. If the music is vulgar the dance will be vulgar. The responsibility is on the management. I consider jazz music vulgar."

"While we will not go as far as the Guyon school of Chicago, which has placed a ban on everything except the old time waltz and two-step, we will insist that the dances which are played, one-step, fox-trot, waltz and two-step, be performed to music that isn't jazz."

UNCLE SAM BUYS LIBERTY BONDS

Saves Big Sum in Interest by Monthly Redemption

WASHINGTON.—Uncle Sam is saving himself an uncomputed, but very substantial sum of money by buying back from investors about $2,000,000 in liberty bonds each month.

In the present "off" prices of the bonds, the government saves on each $2,000,000 monthly purchase a sum on the face value of the bonds, in addition to which it saves the interest it would have to pay from now until the bonds matured.

Treasury department officials said they had not computed what the saving would amount to, but said it would reach a "respectable" figure.

On February 29, this year, $15,640,568.00 in liberty bonds and victory notes were outstanding. Between that date and August 31, the outstanding securities were reduced $310,518,000, or an average of about $5,000,000 a month. In recent months, however, this average was not maintained and figures available at the Treasury show that it is now only about $2,000,000 a month.

In July, for instance, $2,396,000 worth of bonds were bought back by the government. In August $2,452,000 worth were retired.

Treasury officials said purchases of the bonds was not inspired by a desire by the government to keep bond prices down, but was merely in conformity with a provision in one of the liberty bond acts permitting the secretary of the treasury to retire bonds in this fashion instead of piling up a sinking fund to retire them at maturity. The substantial saving to the government is reason enough for this proceeding, officials said, adding however, they considered the monthly transactions "very small."

HUSBANDS ARE BLAMED

Declares American Wives Have Peevish Look on Faces

LONDON.—If a man seeks beauty in the fair sex of America, he must walk with downcast eye, but in England he must gaze rigidly ahead.

That is the opinion expressed to the United Press by C. R. W. Nevins, the famous artist. In view of the sweeping assertion made here that American women couldn't hold a candle to Englishwomen for looks, the United Press sought the opinion of a man whose calling and experience on both sides of the Atlantic make him something of an authority in this rivalry.

Despite the fact that Nevins is on the verge of another visit to New York, he voted in favor of Englishwomen without a moment's hesitation—that is, so far as the face goes.

"Englishwomen in general are more beautiful than American women. They have better features, better complexions, more variety of expression, and they do not fade so quickly," he said. "As a matter of fact, I think the American husband is greatly to blame for this lack of expression in their womenfolk. There is a curious sort of nervousness about the American woman which mars any claim to beauty she may have. She is spoiled and her looks suffer in consequence. A look of disdain can be very beautiful when it just flashes across a face, but when it stays there as a permanent, invariable expression and continual reticence deepens the lips, all beauty is lost."

Nevins agreed that the American woman's nether limbs were more shapely than her English rival's, but he deplored the present American fashion of the long pointed shoe, which he described as lacking proportion.

"The average American woman has a beautiful, slim foot, which should be encased in a shoe which exactly fits. Why does she add two inches of leather to the too and thus disguise her one good feature? To my opinion the exaggerated length of the American footwear is decidedly inartistic."

When questioned in the matter of ankles, Nevins as first disclaimed ever having noticed such things, but eventually admitted that the American variety were so shapely as to challenge attention. Then, forgetting his original reticence, he waxed eloquent.

"American women," he said, "certainly have the best ankles in the world. My very worst experience in this connection was in Czechoslovakia, Angles? My goodness! The girls there hadn't any. Their legs started where their feet left off. They were dreadful—dreadful!" and he groaned. "English ankles come only second to American, for English are improving tremendously in the matter of footwear."

The appellate court which has just disqualified Mr. Volstead as a nominee for congress did not even make a one-half of one per cent reservation in his favor.

AUTUMN HATS SHOW ORIENTAL COLORS

By HIOUSE

Fall hats have been with us since the early spring, and to have some of the other fabric hats. They remind one of the foliage. While the texture remains the same summer coloring change during the early fall days for the deeper and richer hues of the autumn woodlands. Deep, rich tones prevail, the pheasant tone, and other colorings and other vivid hues.

Even when the material is of more neutral tone, it is frequently given a ray color note by embroidery done in copper, gold or silver thread or richly colored silk threads. Duvetyn is a particularly effective when embroidered and a remarkably pretty model in duvetyn is pictured here. It is a small soft shape made of Nanking blue duvetyn with a gold studded brim and crown. An ostrich feather of the same shade of blue is placed at a point angle at the side, otherwise the hat is very plain and simple. It is an exceptionally good model for wear with a suit or frock.

The very smart sports hat of napped, blue silk shown here is also heightened up by broadened designs in rose and yellow shades. It has a soft crushable crown, a narrow rolling brim and no trimming save the broadened design on the silk.

Miss Helen Hoenker, W. Grand-ave., will leave Saturday for Ypsilanti, Mich., where she will resume her studies at the Michigan State Normal school. Miss Hoenker is spending in kindergarten work.

THE ROOM WITH THE TASSELS

By Carolyn Wells

Milly screamed hysterically. Norma Cameron cried softly and Eve Carnforth exclaimed, with blazing eyes, "I don't believe it! You are making that up! How can you know it? Why didn't you rescue her?"

The men uttered various exclamations of incredulity and horror, and the servants sat, aghast.

Pennington Wise surveyed rapidly one face after another, noting the expression of each, and sighing, as if disappointed.

"She is not dead," he said, suddenly and watched again the telltale countenances.

"What!" cried Wynne Landon, "bricks tied to her and thrown in the lake but not drowned! Who saved her life?"

"She herself," returned Wise, "didn't you Zizi?"

And there she was, in the back of the hall, behind the group, every member of which turned to see her. Peterson was with her, and the two came forward.

Zizi was garbed in clothes that Mr. Peterson had lent her, and the too large, she had pinned up the plain black dress until it looked neither grotesque nor unbecomingly.

PATTERN FOR TODAY

A POPULAR "COVER ALL" APRON

Pattern 3361 was employed to make this design. It is cut in 4 sizes: Small, 32-34; Medium, 36-38; Large, 40-42; Extra Large, 44-46 inches bust measure. A medium size will require 3 3/4 yards of 27 inch material.

Stripped seersucker with facings of white pique would be good for this apron. It could have percale, gingham, drill or lawn.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

"Yes, I'm here," she announced, "but only because a bag of bones can't be sunk by a bag of bricks! Your Shawnee Woman—only he didn't have his shawl over his head, carried me off about as easy as he might have sneaked off a doll-baby! Then, shall I tell 'em all, Pen?"

"Yes, child, tell it all, just as it happened."

"Well, he stuffed a bale of cotton into my mouth, which same was soaked with chloroform, so, naturally I couldn't yell; likewise, I didn't know just where I was at for a few minutes."

"Who was he?" exclaimed Braye, "what did he look like?"

"Was he the skull face?" asked Eve.

"Nixy on the bone face!" returned Zizi, "he was a plain clothes man in civilian dress, with a black mask over his patrician features."

"Don't you know who it was?" and Braye's voice was intense and strained.

"Not positively," Zizi answered. "Well, he picked me up like I was a feather, and how he got out of the house I've no idea, but I felt a breeze of night air, and there was I by the bank of the lake, and there he was, busily engaged in tying a load of bricks to my ankles!"

"Did you scream?" asked the Professor, absorbed in the account.

"My dear man, how could I, with my mouth chock-o-block with a large and elegant bundle of gag? I was thankful that my wits were working! Let alone my lung power! Well, he tossed me in the nasty, black lake, and that's where he spilled the beans! For ground and lofty tumbling into lakes is my specialty. I'm the humble disciple of Miss Annette Kellerman, and not so awful humble, either! So, I held my breath under water long enough to wriggle my feet out of those ropes, the old stupid didn't know how to tie anything but a granny slip knot! and I scrambled out, just as my windpipe was beginning to go back on me."

"You make light of it, Zizi, but it was a narrow squeak," said Wise, looking at her gravely.

"You bet it was! If he'd had a softer rope, I'd been done for. It was the stiffness of that rope, and—well, the stiffness of my upper lip—that rescued your little Zizi from a watery grave, and horrid dirty old water, too!"

Wise slipped his arm round the child, and told her to go on with the story.

"Then," she proceeded, "I squeezed out what wetness I could from my few scanty robes, in which I was bedecked, and I borrowed the long cloak, which friend Kidnapper had kindly wrapped me in."

"What kind of a cloak?" asked Eve.

"Nothing very smart," said Zizi, nonchalantly, "I looked to me like an old-fashioned waterproof, and the kind they wore, before raincoats came in. Only it wasn't waterproof, not by several jugs full! But I wrung it out all I could, and then I tried to get in the house. But, it was all locked up, and as it seemed a pity to disturb all you sound sleepers, I ran to the village and begged a lodging with my friend, Mr. Peterson. He and his wife were most kind, and put me in a nice dry, little bed, that had no tassels or ghosts attached to it. I sent Mr. Wise a note, as soon as I could, so he wouldn't worry."

"That was the note I received at

DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS
CECIL FOLLOWS LINDSEY TO PARIS

Thursday—Cecil arrived today, and I managed to get out with her—at least I started out with her—and explained to her that I had promised to meet her lordship at the Luxembourg, for I just had to wander round that place to my heart's content, no matter what happened. Aunt Cecelia looked a bit worried when I told her of my plans for meeting Cecil, but then she said, after a few moments' hard thinking, "You are old enough now to know what you are doing, Lindsey dear." And in the end I had my way, and Cecelia and my lover left me promising to pick me up again, sometime around nine o'clock in the evening, for I was to dine with Cecil.

The long sunny day lay before me, and when I saw Cecil's dancing black eyes laughing up into mine, over the statue of "Le Baiser," some few minutes later, I felt I was hugging him—and so did he, I know. Saw it in one swoop, and we pinched each other's arms to make sure that we were sure enough standing in the Luxembourg gallery, together, of a sunny morning in early September! It was too good to be true.

What fun it was finding all our old loves on various walls there, standing in hushed fervor before each and every favorite, and then beginning all over again.

Never even felt the pangs of hunger until past two o'clock, and then the Gardens smiled at us so temptingly, when we got outside, that we couldn't move on for the love of looking and walking in and about the grounds.

At two-thirty we found ourselves hungrily ensconced in the Cafe du Mesnil, not far from the heart of the Quarter, and I was too excited at this thought to be able to even give a thought to food or the menu-card held out to me by the smiling waiter, who evidently saw that I was a new arrival to all of his Paris. And how kind they are to strangers in this little bijou of a city.

We ordered, and ate, and each mouthful seemed like so much manna to us both. The glass of sparkling wine that Cecil poured out for me, and that I toasted the whole world with, seemed truly like nothing less than the nectar of the gods. Our gods! Of Love, Joy, Youth and Art. Voila!

I could hardly keep my feet still under the table—for they were fairly itching to explore and never stop. Yet there were so many places that I longed to see right away that I couldn't for the world have said which one I wanted to see first. It's persistent.

After we had finished the best lunch I had ever eaten, we wandered out into the sunlight again, and from the Du Mesnil we turned our steps into the Boule Mich, and walked along its banks for some time, looking in at all the small shops and art stores on the way.

Arrived at The Boulevard Montparnasse, dear to the heart of all artists, Cecil stopped, and then took me into one of his favorite cafes, The Brasserie de Lilas, which I found out afterwards is one of the most popular in the Latin quarter, and it is also where the young writers gather and write their verse, and squabble over the poetry of the future. It is also where Ernest Dowson wrote his immortal lines, so well known to us all:

"I have been faithful to thee, Cynara, in my fashion."

Yes, right on the top of one of these tables did he improvise not only this, but many others.

It was such bliss to sit, as we did, and sip our liqueur and watch the habitues stroll in, sit down at the particular tables, and if they were artists draw out their pencils and begin to sketch, either on paper or on the tops of the marble tables—anywhere! What cared they? But I am so tired now from it all that I can write no more—and tomorrow—tomorrow is a new day. (To be continued)

WOMEN SOUGHT IN DEATH PROBE

Mystery Veils Murder of Wealthy Los Angeles Man

BODY IS SEALED IN ROOM

Missing for Several Months—Recent Will Revealed

LOS ANGELES — (By United Press) — Police planned Friday to question several women in connection with the investigation of the murder of Jacob Charles Denton, Los Angeles capitalist, whose body was found in a newly-built room under the stairs of his home here. Denton had been missing for several months.

Neighbors told of seeing a woman scuffling with a man on a porch before the body was found. Denton's body was found in the newly-built room under the stairs.

body was covered with quicklime. The hands and feet were bound and his skull had been fractured.

Mrs. R. C. Post rented Denton's elaborate home which he had built at a cost of $75,000. Mrs. Post suggested the home August 19, to Mrs. T. T. Miller.

WILL AND PROBE — (By United Press) — Mrs. R. C. Post, sister of the young woman, is willing to go back to Los Angeles to do what she can to clear up the mystery surrounding the death of J. C. Denton, wealthy broker, she told here. Police say.

Mrs. Post said she knew nothing of the circumstances of Denton's death or how his body was buried in a sealed room in the basement of the house, which she rented from a slain man.

"I will be glad to return to Los Angeles and aid authorities in their search for the murderer," she said.

Mrs. Post came here about five weeks ago with her invalid husband. She said the first she knew of Denton's death was when informed by newspaper men of the finding of his body. The woman said Denton was friendly with her and permitted her to use his automobile but said there was nothing wrong about their relations.

Denton she said had affairs with several women.

Before she gave up the house last month to come to Denver, Mrs. Post said she had several loads of dirt put in the basement at Denton's request. She said the dirt was to be used for flower beds. It was under this dirt that the broker's body was found.

The last I saw of Denton was when I packed a few things for him when he was leaving on a business trip," she said.

Denton had warned her to keep the basement locked, as he had acquired them there. Mrs. Post said.

WILL'S WILL FOUND — (By Associated Press) — A preliminary report of the coroner of the body of Jacob Charles Denton, found in a sealed room in the cellar of his home, having disclosed to the public, the detective searched Friday for evidence as to how the wealthy mining promoter came to his death.

Officers previously had expressed the theory that Denton had been shot or stabbed. The shooting theory was favored because a revolver, fully loaded, but with one cartridge of a wrong calibre had been found in a room which Denton had reserved for his own use.

Stories by Los Angeles friends as to when Denton was last seen differed as to date. Some placed it at June 2, while others named August 19, as the time he dropped from sight.

Judge Russ Avery, of the Los Angeles superior court, friend and attorney of the dead man, made public portions of a recent will drawn by Denton. This document disposed of the bulk of his property to Frances Denton, daughter of his first and divorced wife, now going to school in Phoenix, Arizona.

He also wrote Judge Avery: "If anything should happen to me, or in case of death which must some time happen to all of us, I hereby appoint you my attorney in fact, and, together with Joel Denton, Lawson, Mo the administrator of my estate."

Joel Denton is a brother of the dead man, the police said.

WHEAT SOWING IS TO BE DELAYED

Hessian Fly Will be Busy Until Sept. 27, Cause

Do not sow your wheat before September 27 if you want to avoid the Hessian fly, is the warning being given out by county farm agents to farmers in their communities. T. H. Parks, state entomologist who is visiting various sections in this part of the state is making investigation as to the fly's progress. Large numbers are still hatching and will be until the 27th.

Mr. Parks has an interesting way of determining the number of flies hatched daily. He sets a number of cages in stubble in the fields. Each day the newly hatched flies are counted, and they show a gradual increase until September 20th. Mr. Parks says the danger to be over by the 27th.

The way the Hessian fly hatches depends mostly on the amount of moisture in the ground, according to experts. Some years they are hatched and gone earlier than other years because moisture conditions are better for them.

Recent Election in Central American Republic Benefit

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — The recent presidential election in Guatemala will have a beneficial effect upon commercial interests in the United States, says Dr. Edwin R. Heath, of Kansas City, Kansas, consul stationed here for Guatemala and Bolivia and consul general for Honduras and Nicaragua.

"American investors in Guatemala are fortunate in the recent election to the presidency of Carlos Herrera by an overwhelming majority after the enforced withdrawal of Don Manuel Cabrera," Dr. Heath said. "Cabrera was another Diaz, while he had done much for his country, he had been an autocrat for many years, and would not allow another candidate for president to be presented. The new president is much more in sympathy with Americans and American ideals."

"There is a great need of a better understanding between the United States and the republics of Central and South America. The most crying need is for improved mail service. United States mail is very uncertain in South America. Steamship companies have fulfilled their contracts when the mail has been unloaded on the wharf and distribution is left largely to chance. Improved consular service and better shipping facilities from the United States to South America are greatly needed."

SPECIAL MUSICAL SERVICES
The First Congregational church has arranged for special music at the morning and evening services during the winter. The music will begin with the services Sunday. The quartette is composed of Miss Catherine Yeakum, Miss Helen Bower, William Toornman and J. A. Breesse. Mr. Breesse will direct the quartette.

TOY BALLOON INDUSTRY INCREASES IN OHIO

ASHLAND.—It used to be that all toy balloons were made in Europe, largely in Germany.

To-day Ohio produces between 50 and 75 per cent of this nation's entire output of this toy, or about 1,500,000 daily.

About 2,500 gross, or nearly one-fourth of Ohio's output, are made here. Other Ohio toy balloon factories are located at Barberton, near Akron; Cleveland, Kenmore, Lorain, Mansfield, Orrville, Ravenna, Wellington, Avondale and Wooster.

Ashland leads the entire world in the manufacture of these balloons.

Toy balloons and squawkers made here are sold in Europe and in the Far East.

RIVER GIVES UP $2,000 DIAMOND LOST 2 YEARS

YANKTON, S. D.—Two years ago Otto Huber, young real estate dealer here and his fiancée, Miss Ruby Farr, went boat riding on the James River. A diamond engagement ring which had cost Huber $2,000 was lost in the water.

He and friends searched for the gem constantly during the next two days but it was not found and he was called away to war. Recently he returned.

Last Sunday he resumed the hunt, using a fine sand screen. After working about four hours he was rewarded by finding the ring. It has been returned to the young woman and a wedding is expected before the week's end.

WAR ON DOGS DECLARED
LORAIN.—War to the death was declared by the police here against ownerless and vicious dogs. Several children have been bitten and two were said to be in a serious condition.

One of the dogs, captured after biting a child, was found to have rabies. "Muzzle all dogs" was the order sent out by Chief of Police Walker. "License or no license, every dog must have a muzzle."

Little Jane was saying her prayers, "and please," she begged, "make Rome the capital of Turkey."

"Oh, my child," said the horrified mother, "why do you ask God for such a thing as that?"

"Because," replied the little girl, "I put it like that in my examination papers today."

President's Secretary Tammy said the other day:

"It's astonishing how many thousands of requests for army commissions come to the White House with every mail. A good many seem to think that an army commission is a safe and highly paid sinecure."

"Yes, a good many men are like the chap who was after a consultancy. 'So you're after the consultancy to Tolosa, eh?' a friend said to him. 'Yes, with both feet,' the chap answered. 'Is a consultancy hard work?' 'Not after you get it.'"

Sadie was eleven, and Alice was seven. At luncheon said Alice, "I wonder what part of an animal a chip is? Is it a leg?"

"Oh, course not," returned Sadie. "It's the jawbone. Haven't you heard of animals flicking their chins?"

"Yes, sir, it's pretty hard collecting money just now; I know it."

"Have you tried and failed?"

"Oh, no."

"How then, do you know that money is hard to collect?"

"Because several people have tried to collect some from me."
